THE PAST & THE PRESENT

In 1972, when Don moved to London and took over the Cork & Bottle the wine list was rubbish. Those days were before EU rules had to be obeyed and the UK bottled wines, mainly from the brewers, didn't have to observe the niceties of appellation contrôlée laws. Tankers of foul North African stuff was brought into Blighty and labelled with the great names. Bogus Beaujolais; Nuits St Georges which owed more to nights in Tunisia; malicious Meursault and Moroccan powered glutinous Côtes du Rhone. Anyway, he chucked all the wines out and only purchased genuine stuff. It took a while to sort everything out - he opened "Shampers" which allowed him the economies of scale to ship wines direct from suppliers, therefore guaranteeing a certain degree of authenticity. In 1978 he had lunch at the long gone Australian Wine Centre in Soho. The director Stuart Faulds showed him just how much the wines had improved since his NZ days - It was a revelation! He didn't just think of wine and food. Cricket is involved and that winter England was touring Australia. ...so, off he went. He visited wineries in the Barossa Valley and Adelaide, Grant Burge and a few others and shipped some wines. What a financial disaster! Central London wasn't ready for a couple of hundred dozen Australian reds and whites; he was the first independent wine merchant to ship direct so there had been no publicity. But things changed a few years' later: He wrote his first book "Enjoying Wine" in 1985 & dedicated a considerable chapter to Australia. Rob Hill-Smith was one of the first to realise the possibilities of the British market and he was able to buy his wines in only the quantities he needed for current sales...and it was all a spectacular success for the Cork & Bottle.

"Do you fancy buying the Cork & Bottle wine bar?"

It was April 2010 and I had known about this little oasis beneath Leicester Square for less than 48 hours, but this conversation started one of the most exciting journeys of my life. Although I'd had great success running and owning pubs, restaurants and cafés all over the world from London to Melbourne, this place was something else. I had never taken on anything as specialised as the Cork & Bottle, a wine institution for nearly 40 years. The celebrations, meetings, parties, friendships, marriages (and divorces), not to mention the hangovers that this place has been responsible for are too many to even begin to recount. Everyone I meet has a favourite story involving the Cork & Bottle. The first time I met the Don was in Aix-en-Provence. As far as I was concerned the deal to buy the wine bar had been done, a price agreed and all we had to do was shake hands ...oh boy, was I wrong! It didn't take long for me to realise that Don was hardly going to sell the crown jewel in his empire to "any little sh" - Don was not one to mince his words! After a few aperitifs, we were walking to a restaurant for lunch and it dawned on me I was being interviewed. Don asked me "You die tomorrow, which two bottles, one red and one white are you taking with you?" We soon found we shared a mutual love of good food, drink and wine, but probably most importantly, cricket. I must have said something right, as he eventually (and thankfully) agreed to sell up and pass on the reins. One of the things that attracted me to this business was the wine buying philosophy. We still don't do business with suits who descend on the wine bar with samples trying to flog us their wares. We buy much of our wine by going out to the vineyards and tasting the wines in situ. Our suppliers have become great friends over the last few years, my travels have taken me throughout Europe, to California, and back to Australia and New Zealand. Our list is diverse and has been described as a wine bible or as I prefer "the list of desire." The notes are not designed to tell you what to drink but to aid you in finding what you already like and occasionally help provoke you into trying something new. Don worked with us right up until the end - taking numerous wine trips together to visit existing suppliers and to find new ones. He was a legend, a friend and my true wine Jedi. He taught us all so much and we have not finished learning. That is one of the beauties of wine - just when you think you have a grasp of it, something else comes along to take you by surprise. Glory in a glass. Thank you Don.

Salut, Will

BORDEAUX

In 1855 Emperor Napoleon III instituted a Cru Classe classification of the finest 62 Bordeaux estates based on reputation and prices received for their wine, the wines were divided into five growths (Cru Classe). They were all red, and with the notable exception of the Graves Chateau Haut Brion, they were all from the Medoc. In the 1930's a new category for wines just below these exalted few, Cru Bourgeois was announced. We have majored on these relatively affordable classics for 40 years... But, a word of warning – The Cru Bourgeois status is not 100% reliable. They range from the sublime (we have a number of these on this list) to the distinctly average. Enjoy the benefits of our experience. Bordeaux is not the Barossa. It has a maritime climate with erratic weather patterns providing vintages of vastly different styles and qualities. We buy these Chateaux at auction and on the open market. We do not follow estates as much as vintages. All these wines are from attractive years and perfect for current drinking.

HAYES FAMILY WINES

Brett Hayes found himself stuck in his corporate career. We are pleased he followed his heart and passion for wine and bought the Stone Well Estate. With vineyards dating back to the 1870s and a belief in doing things naturally means a lot of hands-on work. They hand-prune and hand-harvest, managing all aspects in the vineyard with extreme care and attention to detail. Andrew Seppelt is the superstar winemaker who has helped develop a superb small-batch wine portfolio under the Hayes Family Wines umbrella, achieving a five star rating from the James Halliday Wine Companion since inception; an impressive endorsement from Australia's top taster. We were lucky to snag two small allocations of some of their fantastic Grenache.

WIRRA WIRRA

The Cork & Bottle has been selling from this amazing operation since 1979. In those days it was masterminded by the late, great Greg Trott. Life was sweet – Don used to go and taste at the cellar door with Trotty, followed by a liquid lunch....then off to the cricket at the Adelaide Oval, and watch the Poms trounce the Aussies..... Bliss!

YALUMBA

Australia's oldest and largest family run winery. It was great to visit great mate Rob Hill-Smith on my down under tour in early 2024. Rob was the first to realise we needed to be able to ship smaller volumes to get Australian wine into the UK market all those years ago. Rob and now sixth generation daughter, Lucy, continue to run this operation with an incredibly dedicated management team. No short-termism demanded by shareholders. No bean counters demanding costs to be cut. No 'work experience' marketing misanthropes changing tack every year.

JIM BARRY CLARE VALLEY

The late, great Jim Barry planted his first vines in 1959. His son, Peter, ran the show with an outstanding palate for quality and consistency. He gets a lot of his humour from his 92 year old mother – she refuses people to come for coffee in the mornings, but instead tells them to come by at 11.30; “It has always been quicker to pop the cork on a bottle of champagne than to boil the kettle!” she says! We agree! The winery is now in the very safe hands of Tom, Sam and Olivia a real family business and the kind of folks we love dealing with.

NEW ZEALAND

TE MATA ESTATE, HAWKES BAY

Don & John Buck go back to 1965, so there is a bit of bias here!

“Although NZ is best known for its cool-climate wines it has been recognised for some time that Hawke’s Bay is particularly well suited to weightier reds, such as Bordeaux style blends. The development of the Gimblett Gravels put these wines on the map, but the Buck family focused on their style much before that” Decanter

ELSTON CHARDONNAY 2021

John likes to put it up blind against Mouton, Lafite et al, with amazing results. So, it’s great value! 14%ABV

MARLBOROUGH

DOG POINT VINEYARD

Dog Point is one of the oldest privately established vineyards in Marlborough with first plantings in the late 1970s. Ivan and Margaret Sutherland were among the earliest wine industry pioneers. While working at Cloudy Bay Vineyards, Ivan met James Healy. Sharing the same aspirations, Ivan & Margaret and James & Wendy returned to a more 'hands-on' approach launching the Dog Point label. The next generation of the Sutherland family are now running the day to day operations. Don listed Dog Point in early 2005 and now this fantastic winery is back...

RENEGADE URBAN WINERY

A London urban winery may seem like a mad idea but just wait and... taste! They started making wines in 2016 and have put their own signature on winemaking. The UK doesn't have as much legislation as Europe, so they are not limited in terms of styles they can make. Another advantage is the fact that they can pick every year the best grapes from anywhere they like, so the best quality is always guaranteed. 50% European and 50% English grapes give them the vast variety of styles and here are some of them.
